Sister Bernadette

YOU'RE TOPS . . . . .
with the Class of 1956 . . . . .

The past twenty five years of your life reflect countless hours of prayer, love, toil and sacrifice for those entrusted to your constant care as you continue the work of the Great Master and Teacher of mankind. To you, we are indebted in great part for what Sacred Heart has achieved in each one of us during these formative years. Your wise guidance and cheerful smile have helped us in the long struggle leading to wider and brighter horizons. Yours is a life dedicated to the molding of young minds in the firm beliefs of christianity, humanity, freedom and democracy--in one word, in the SPIRIT OF AMERICA.

With deep gratitude and sincere appreciation, we, the Seniors, proudly dedicate the Pasiphor of 1956 to you . . . . .

SISTER BERNADETTE . . . . .

A Tribute . . .

. . . to Sister Bernadette . . .

for these and many other achievements made possible, in the past twenty-five years through her initiative and astuteness . . .

Our beloved Pastor
MONSIGNOR D. CARRIERES

We are fortunate in having here at Sacred Heart, the help and assistance of our wonderful priests who teach and guide us in such a friendly and understanding way.

Thank you, Monsignor, for your constant interest in both our spiritual and scholastic advancements.

To Father Savary, the Juniors and Seniors are greatly indebted for the sound and solid moral training given them in his Religion classes.

Many hearts were sad and weary the day Father Lagor was transferred to Burlington, for everyone knew that he would miss Father's religious instructions as well as his friendly and personal interest.

Father Messier has assumed Father Lagor's duties and in him, we have found another true friend of Sacred Heart in his sincerity and devotedness.

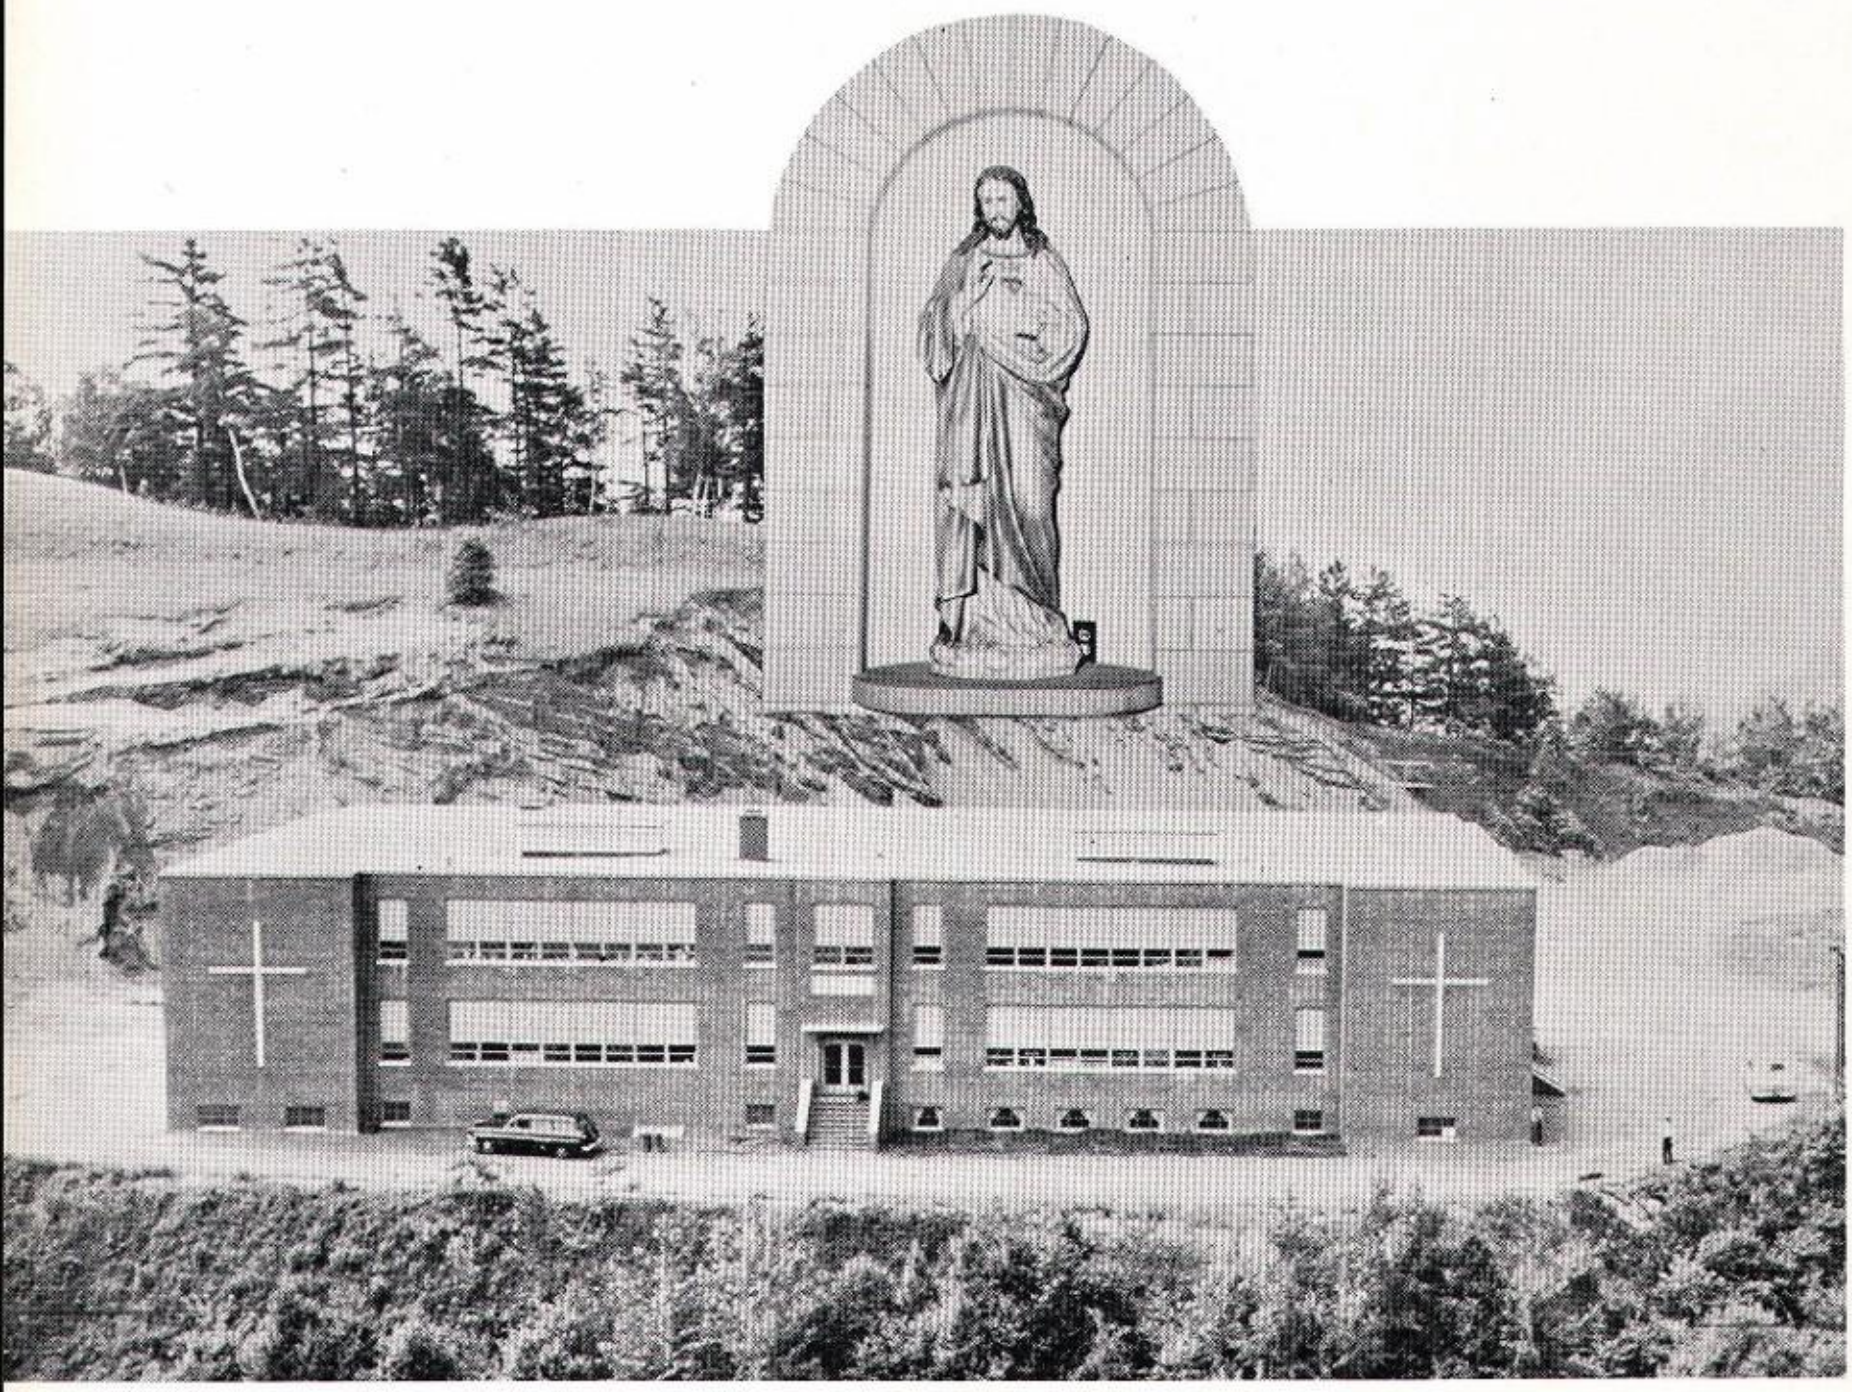
FOREWORD

Life at Sacred Heart High School is that of a living, breathing mass of young Americans learning to live and work together; a student body with one aim--to reach a better understanding of the true SPIRIT OF AMERICA. Here, we are constantly impressed with the fact that the world, the nation and the local community need the very best that each of us can give . . . . .



The statue of the Sacred Heart of Jesus overshadows the daily life of the students of SACRED HEART HIGH SCHOOL.

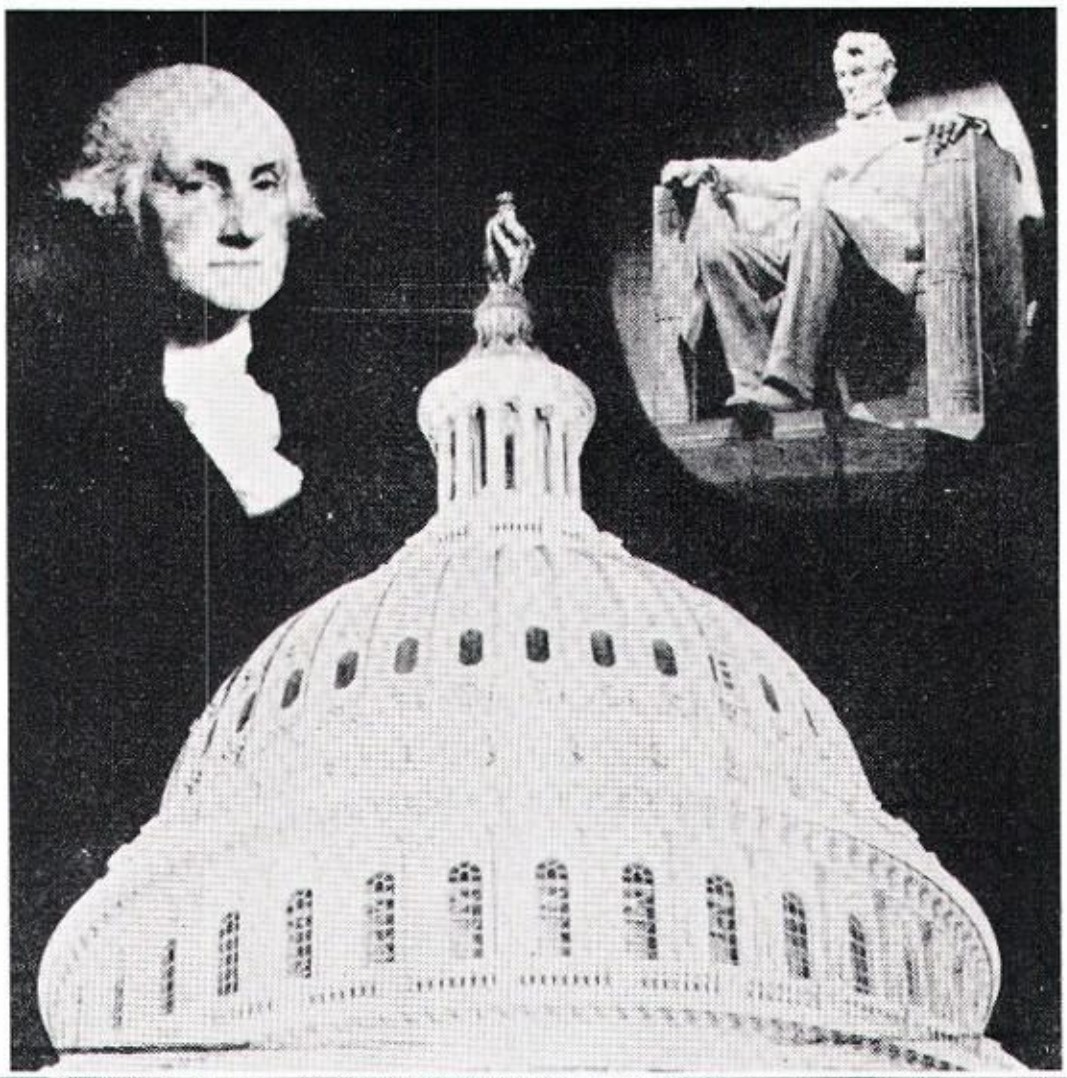
The Spirit of America is a Spirit of inquiry

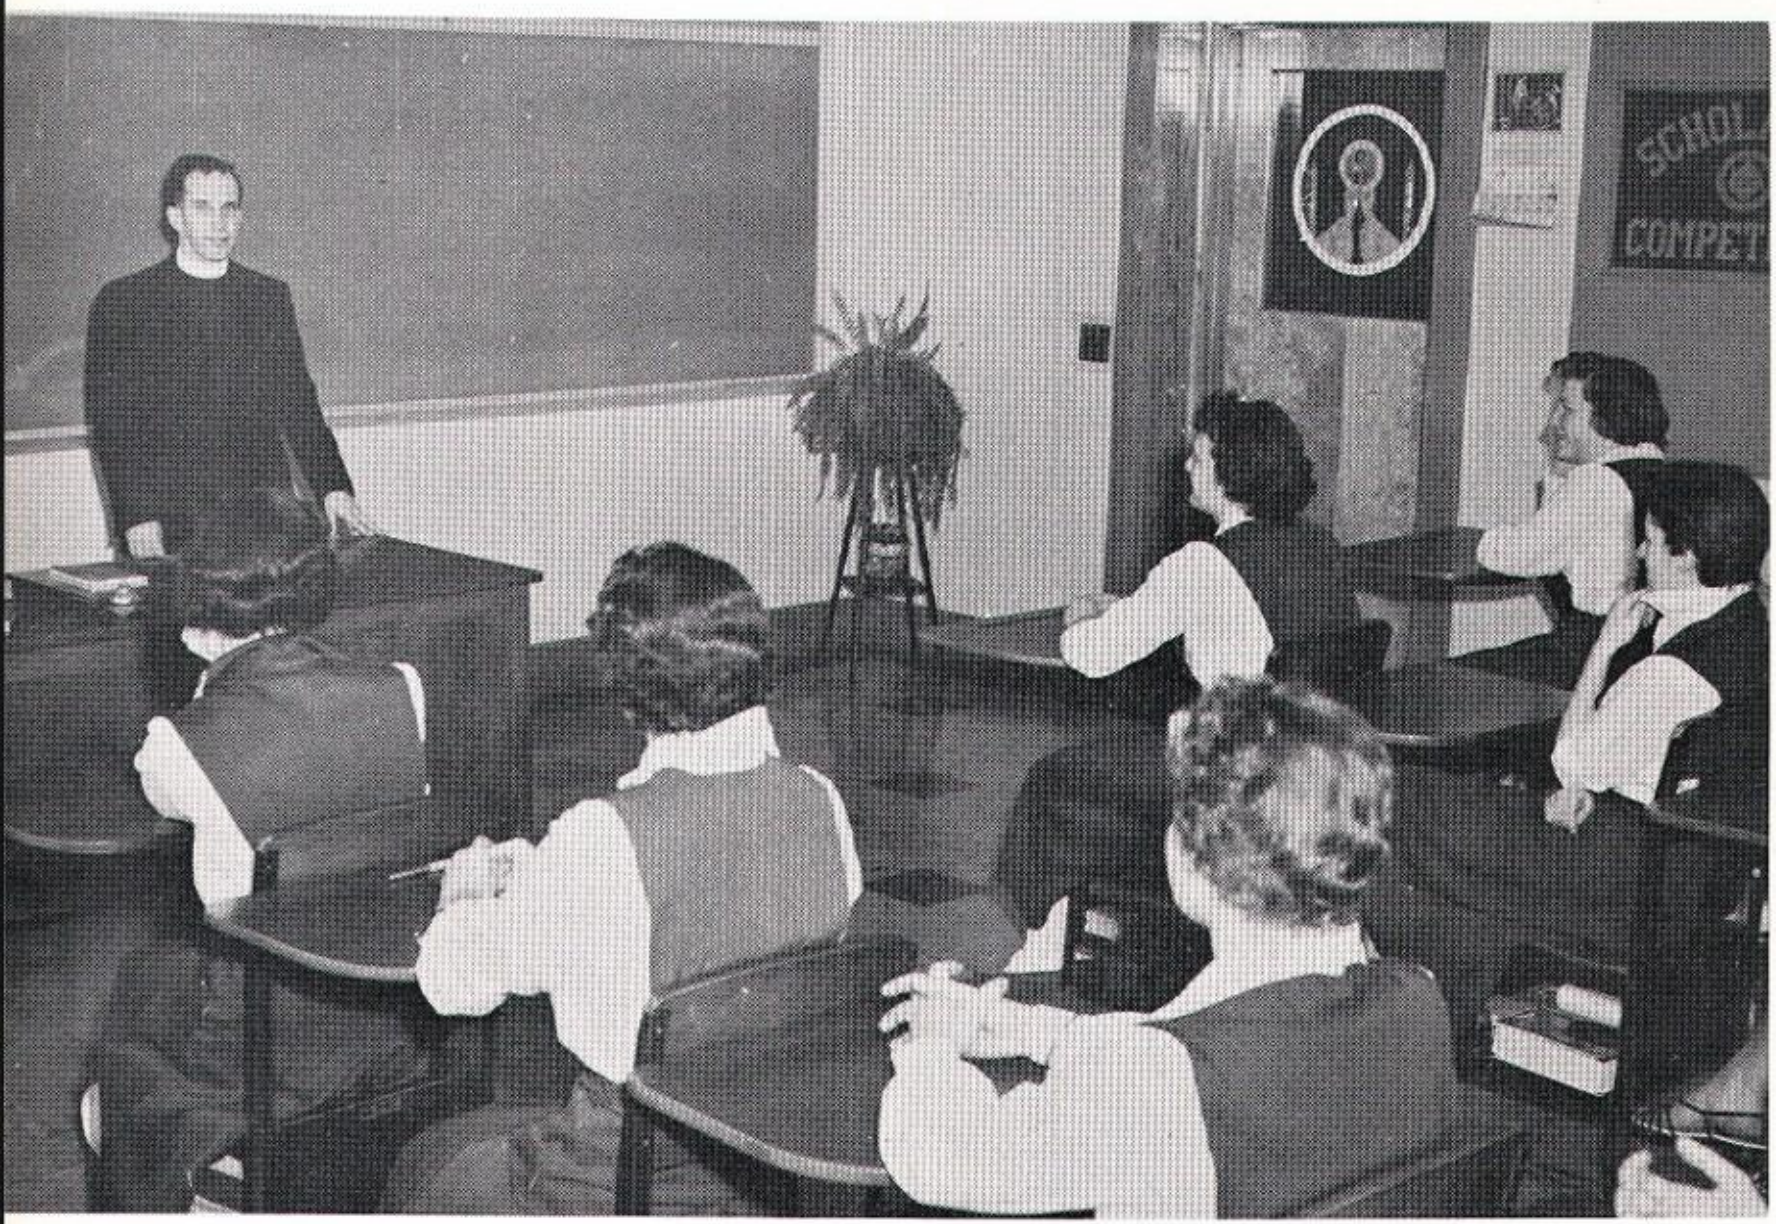


In the Classes . . .

. . . . students are made to realize that, "All that Mankind has done, thought or been is lying as in magic preservation in the pages of books."

Carlyle

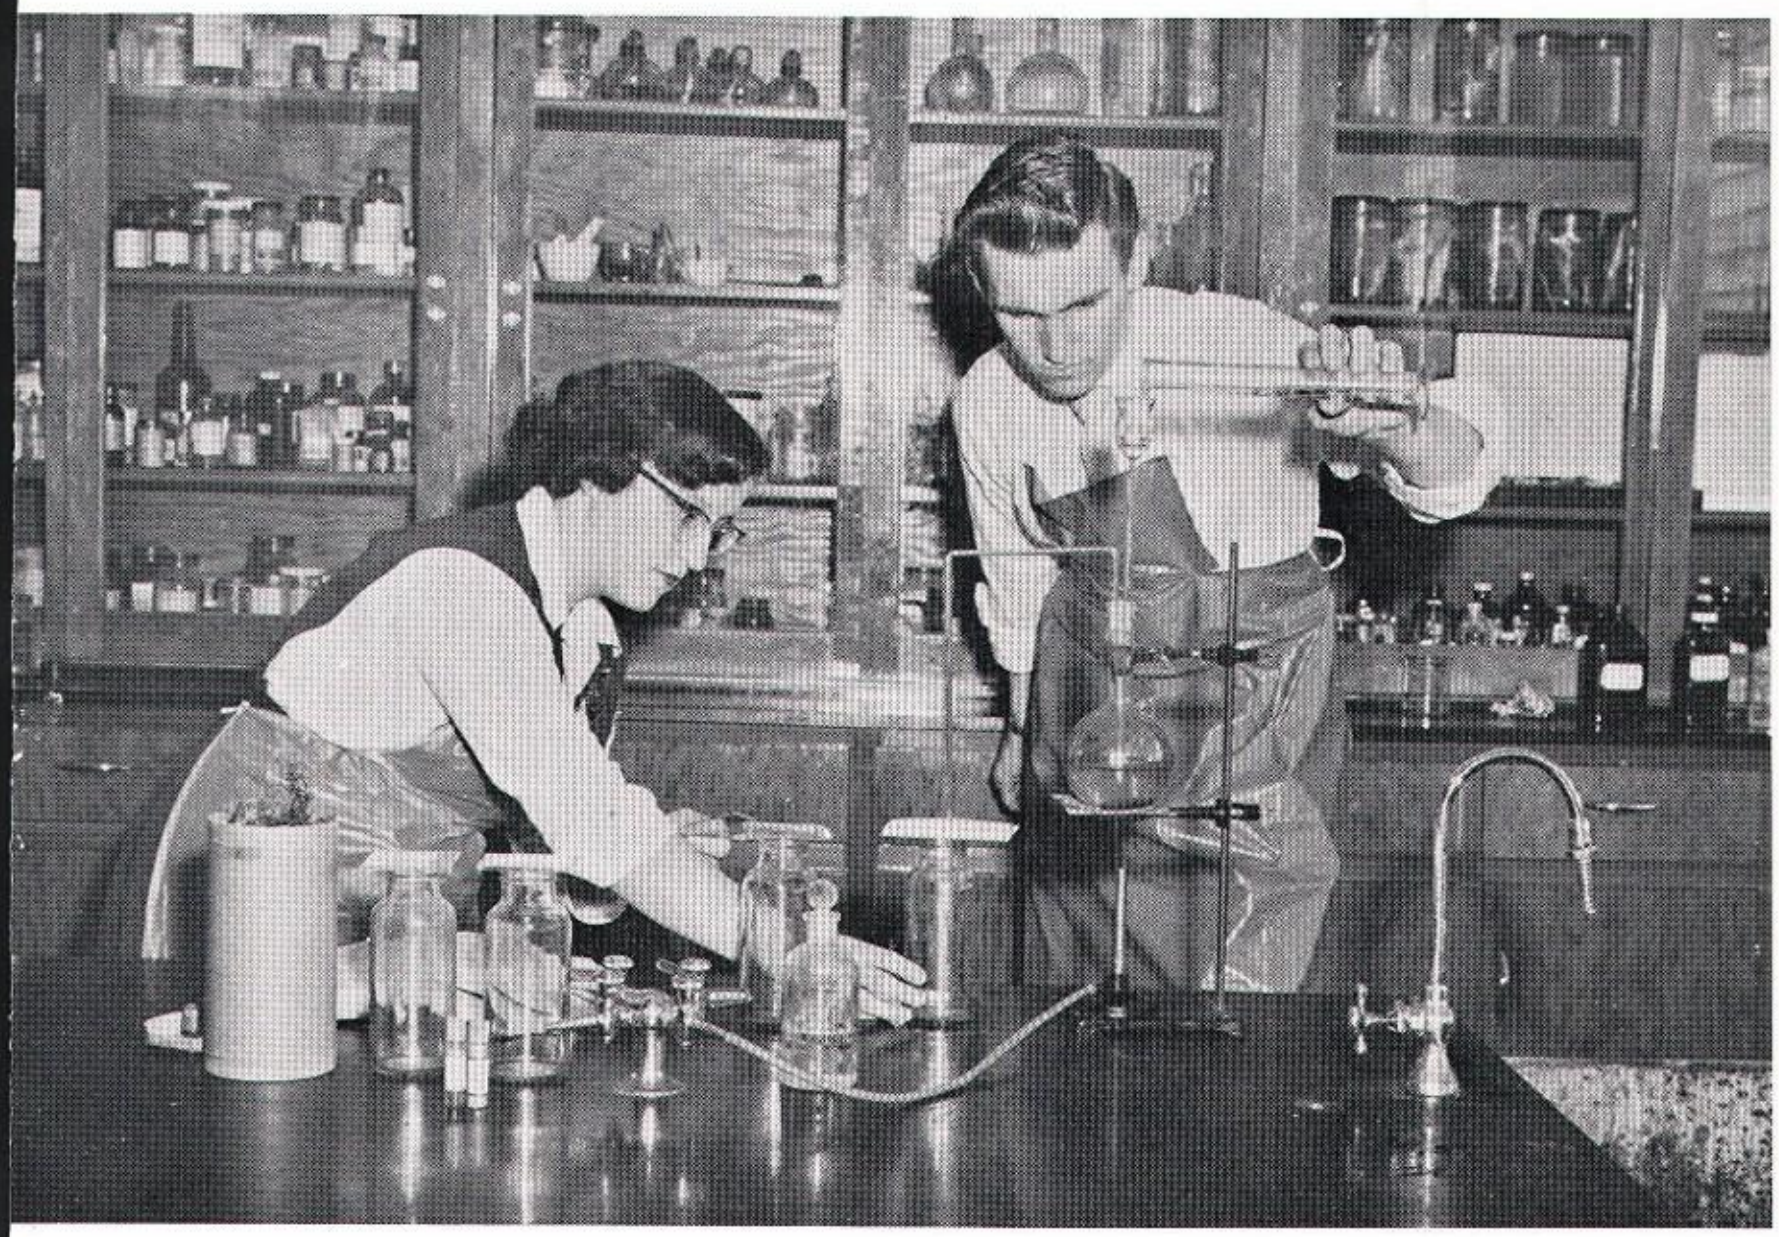
One of the purposes of our high school is to teach us to know what is important. Where could we be taught the real value of things better than in our classes of RELIGION . . . .



Father Savary gives a very informative course to the Seniors and Juniors.

The Sophomores and Freshmen had many interesting classes with Father Lagor while he was with us.

"In this world of incomprehensible things we are developing the hope that atomic energy will do the seemingly impossible. Will this magic force improve human behaviour?" . . Thoughts similar to these are frequently brought to us by our teachers of S C I E N C E.



Easy now . . . . Just a drop more . . . . Cynthia Roy, and Theodore Quintin at a very painstaking task.

I've got it . . . . What's this? . . . .
Peter Wursthorn, Paul Higgins, Brigitte Tremblay, Theresa Labrecque, Gerald Phillips, Maurice Diette and Carroll Gardner explore the mysteries of the unseen world.

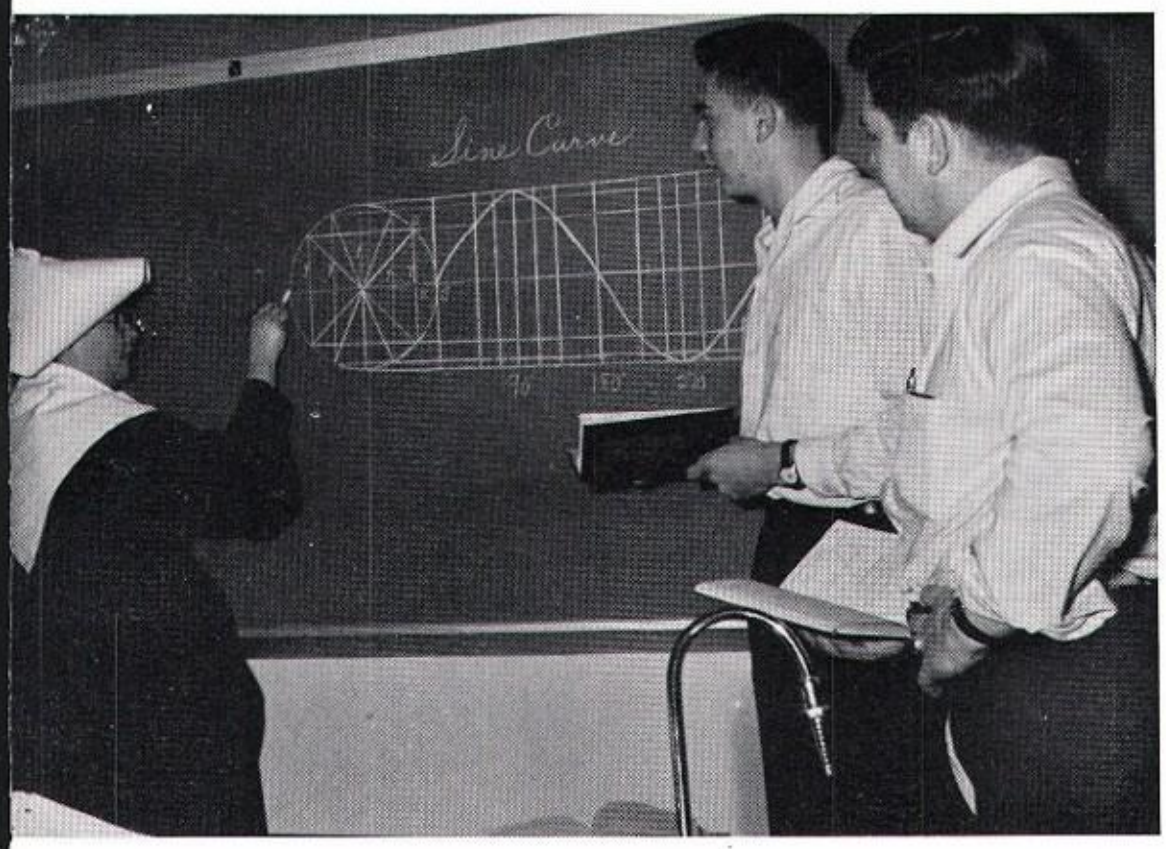
We study English . . .

. . . that we may learn more clearly to say what is on our mind. Oh! The strange magic of words! . . . By so doing, we will bring a better understanding between one another.

Patricia Roderer easily holds the attention of her fellow-classmates, the Seniors, as she relates one of the captivating incidents from a book she has just completed.

A period for questions and answers completes the reading of most English I selections. What and how much has each student understood, that is the question.

"Reading maketh a full man, conference a ready man and writing an exact man." Bacon



Studying Sine Curves under the able guidance of Sister Maurice are Raymond Gendron and Donald Geoffroy.

We study Mathematics . . .

. . . that we may learn to think more clearly and come to conclusions which are sound and logical.

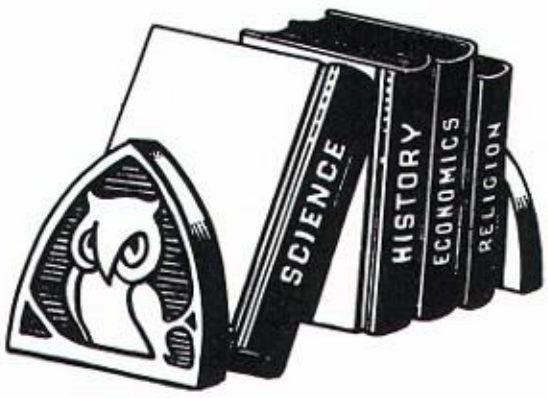
A class of Intermediate Algebra. Just how intricate can all these formulas become! . . . .

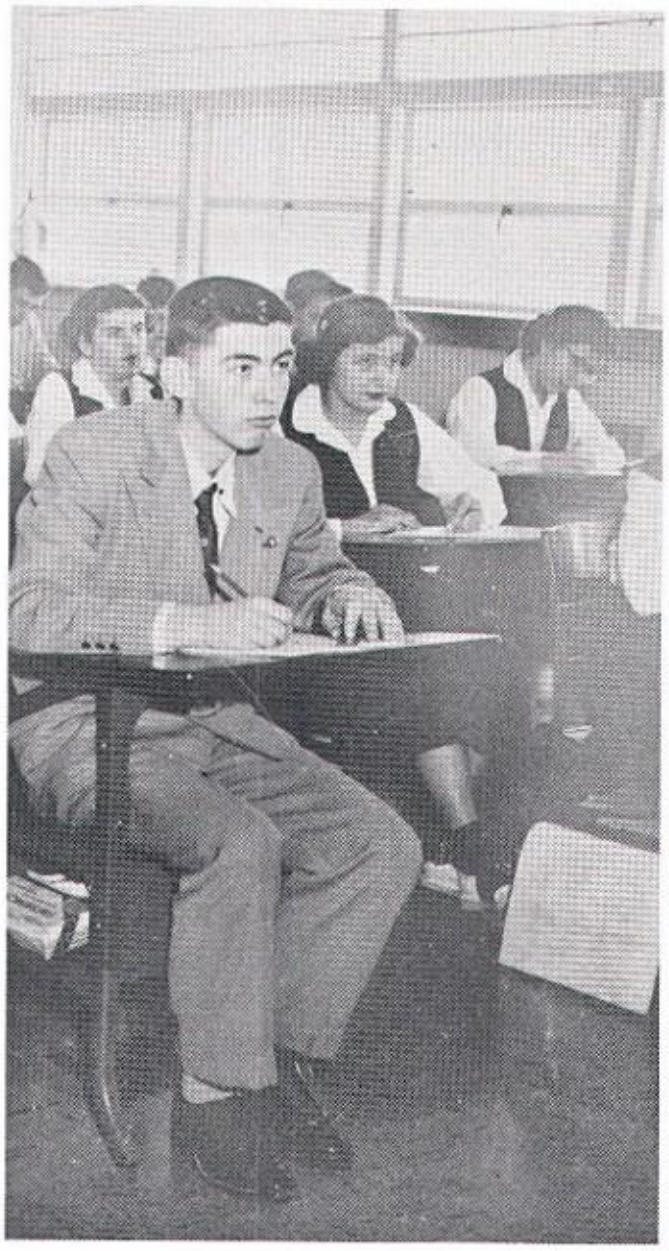
"The advance and the perfections of mathematics are closely joined to the prosperity of a nation." Napoleon

Philip Moeykens thinks that he has just found the exact location of the important historical spot discussed in the last history class.

We study HISTORY to learn of human conduct in the past, of errors made and how we can avoid repeating them.

The Problems in Democracy class put on a model United Nations meeting wherein they assume the attitudes and retorts of both aggressor and aggressed nations.

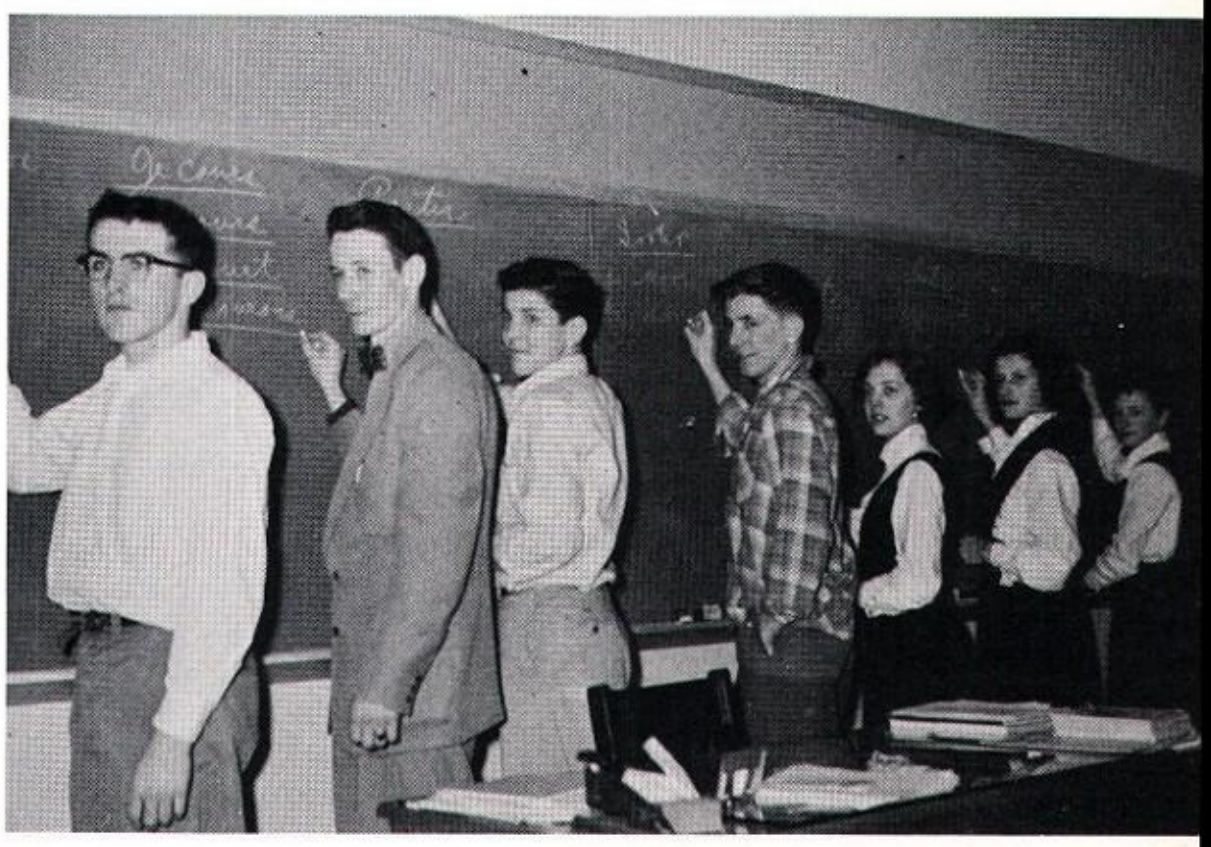




The teacher spends many hours explaining rules and Allyn Temple spends many hours understanding and retaining them. . .

We study LANGUAGES because we realize that present day world problems of mankind can never be solved until the people in different parts of the world understand clearly the thoughts and interests of the others . . . .

Verbs . . . . Verbs . . . . and still more Verbs! Is there truly a machine which translates languages? . . . Will Sister Jeanne use it in her classes someday? . . .



The Shorthand I class tries very hard to keep up with the second hand on Sister Bernadette's time clock. But it really takes a long time to master so many new written forms.

The BUSINESS world . . .

. . . holds countless opportunities for advancement to students with clerical knowledge.

"Time and tide wait for no man . . . ." says Marthe Lacasse as she speeds along on the electric typewriter.

Gilles Blais seems very satisfied with his blue print design. Raymond Gendron and many others are also working in the same field.

Every boy and girl graduating from high school at this time is very much interested in the new turn of . . .

Mechanical development.

Before a blue print is completed, students must learn the basic principles governing lines, angles and curves from which these evolve.

With the final swish of the ball, the varsity season ended with a record of ten wins and six losses including a tournament game with Derby Academy and a play-off game for the State Championship with McIndoes Falls.

The Cardinals had a quite a streak of bad luck with three boys spraining their ankles.

With only two lettermen leaving the team, next year's team looks very promising.

Creating a precedent here at Sacred Heart High, the Girls' basketball team played its first public night game this season. Otherwise and due to a late start the girls did not get to play many games. However, they especially showed up their true colors at the Derby game where they were defeated by only one point and that in the last five seconds of the game.

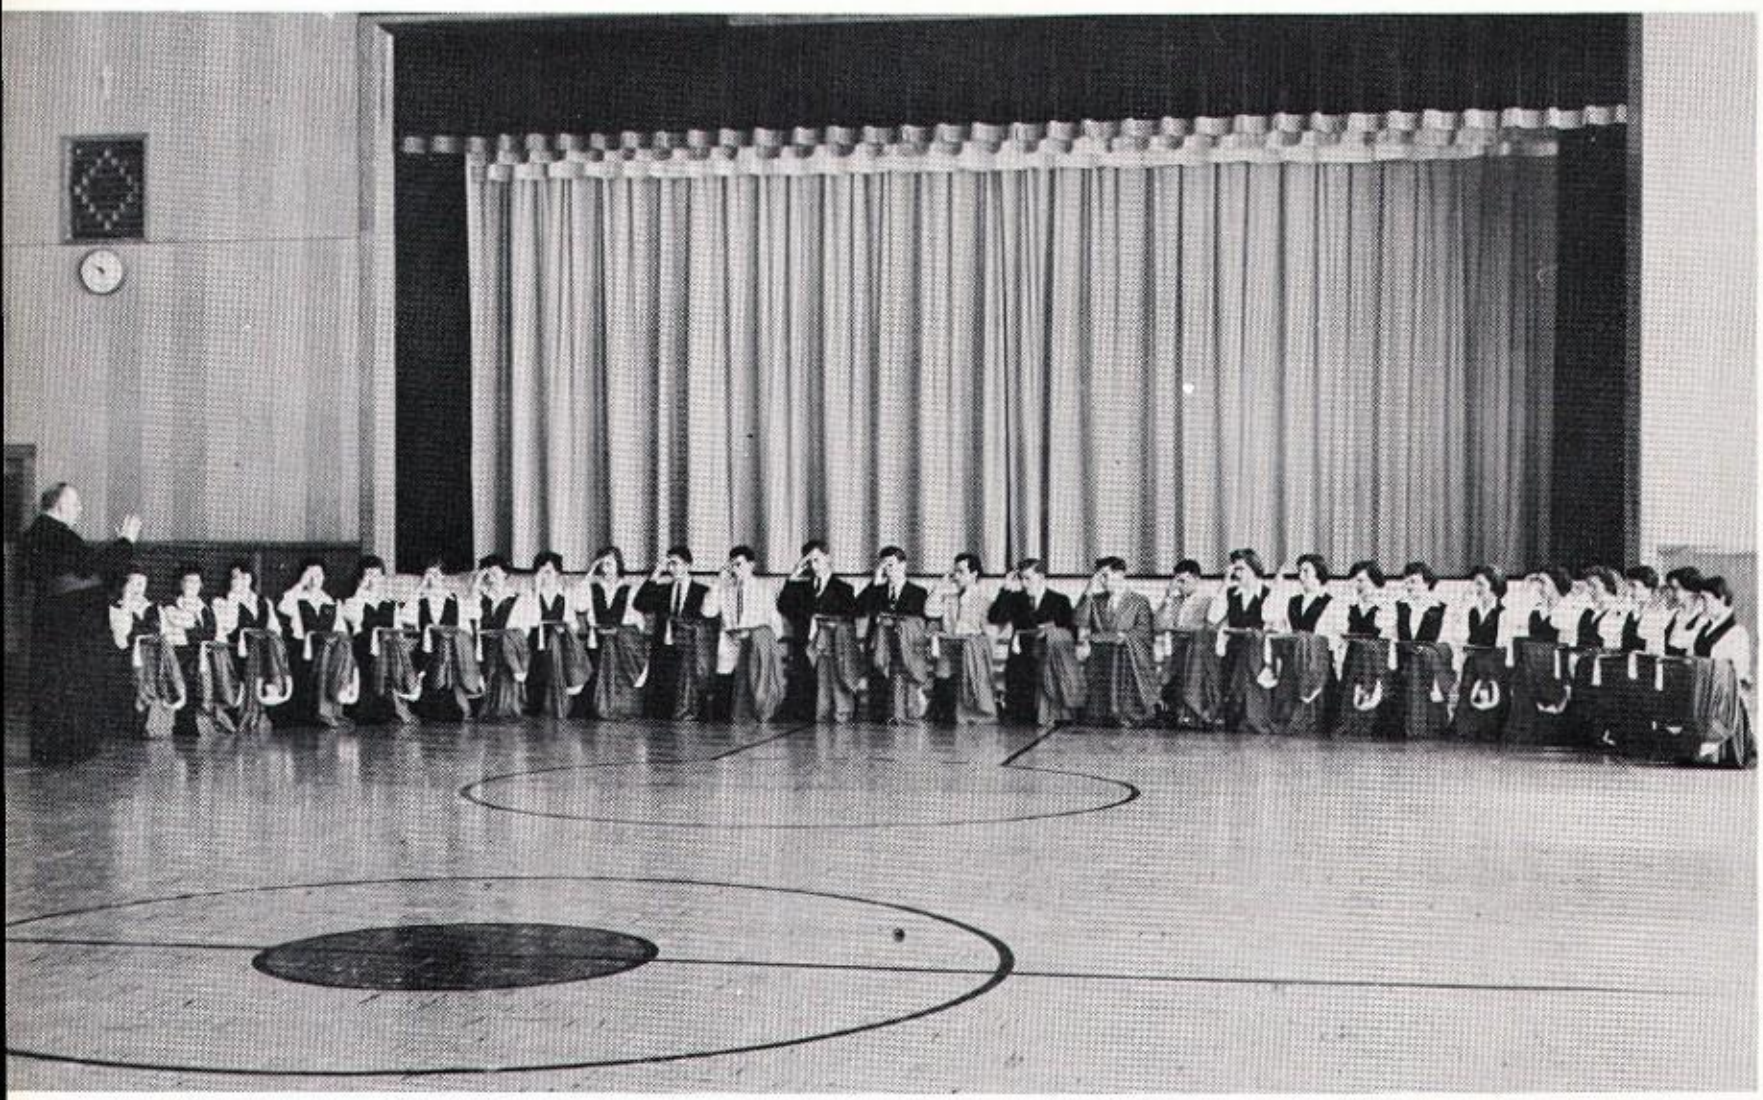
Assemblies . . .

. . .are a very important addition here at Sacred Heart. Everyone anxiously awaits the periods during which the student-body takes over for forty-five minutes. The classes alternate in presenting their programs and each student gets a chance to act a part. Many a hidden talent has been discovered this way. The theme and manner of presentation vary, but no matter how they are rendered everyone profits by them.



The Seniors put on the first assembly in an atmosphere of recollection and tranquillity. It was an impressive ceremony presided by Monsignor Carrieres. The Seniors officially received their graduation cap and gown which they donned after a blessing from their beloved pastor.

PARSIMONIOUS! . . .HETEROGENEOUS! . . .PANDEMONIUM!. . .are some of the words Sophomore Elizabeth Sessions acquired from eating the vocabulary producing foods. But, Oh! what complications followed. . .

Marie Larocque raised her baton and from the instruments of the talented Sophomore musicians flowed "the sweetest music this side of heaven. . ."

The worthy Juniors grouped together for a grand finale as they inspired us with the beautiful words of THE BATTLE HYMN OF THR REPUBLIC.

Christmas is always a very jolly season here at Sacred Heart. The Freshmen presented a very appropriate program. It was an effort to make people from all walks of life understand that their place is at the foot of the Christ- Child.

Everyone looked forward to the fun and frolic of the Christmas party. It was indeed a great surprise to have Santa appear in his own sleigh drawn by two of his faithful helpers.

Planning . . . . . Organizing . . . . . Living it through . . . . .

How could a Senior forget the Penny Bazaar!! . . . .

Physically. .

very tiring . . .

Financially . . .

very consoling . . .

GUESS AGAIN. . .We can't tell. . .

Nothing ever sounded so far from the truth . . . yet you'd never know it from the expression of rapt interest on the face of the interviewed. . . .

THE Bingo games were all in fun. . .

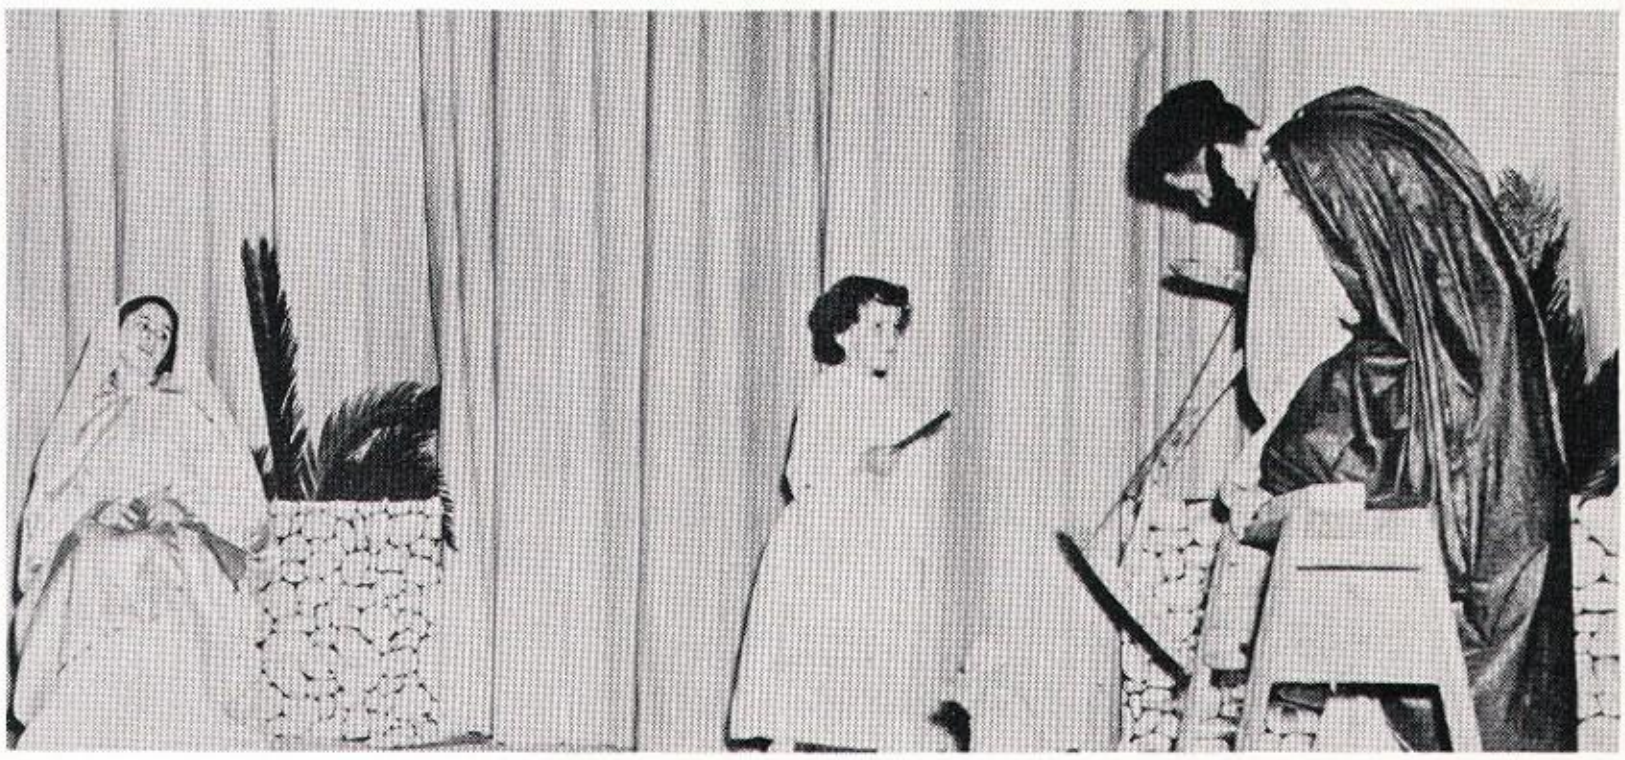
Here We Meet Daily . . . . .

At the feet of the Master of Mankind, we meet daily either for a silent prayer, a friendly talk with the Master or to listen to one of his ministers.

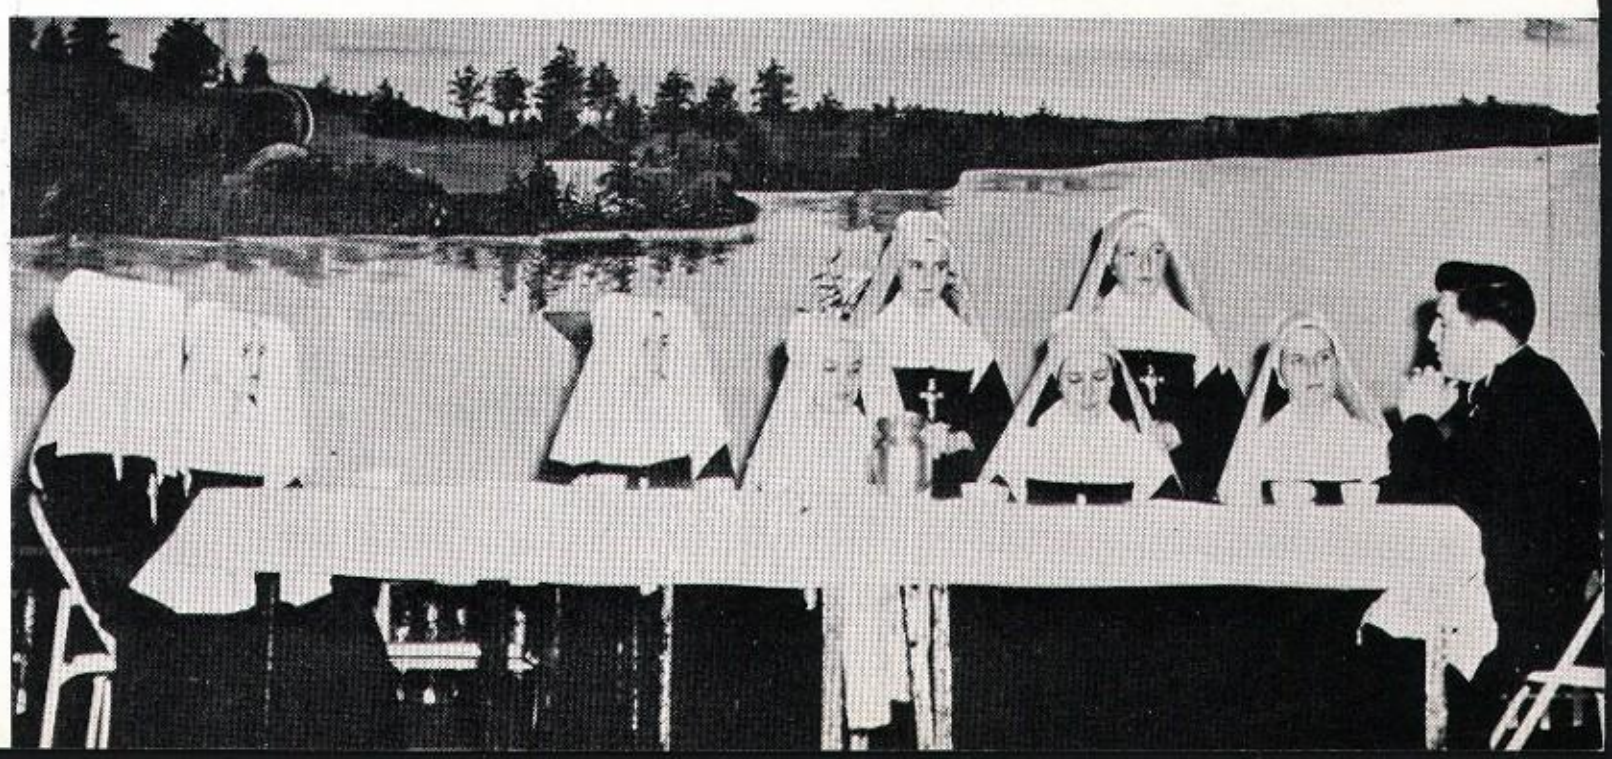
Every student finds a few moments daily to enter the library which contains books of interest for everyone.

Sister Arthur prepares a delicious lunch for approximately two hundred students daily. All the students look forward to this refreshing half hour. . . .

The year 1955 marked the fiftieth anniversary of foundation of Sacred Heart School by the Daughters of Charity of the Sacred Heart of Jesus. The celebrations began with a solemn high mass of thanksgiving sung by alumni members of the school: Reverend Leo Bedard, M.S. celebrant; Reverend Armand Fortin, deacon; Reverend Arthur Hamel, sub-deacon, Reverend Gerard Brochu, master of ceremonies.

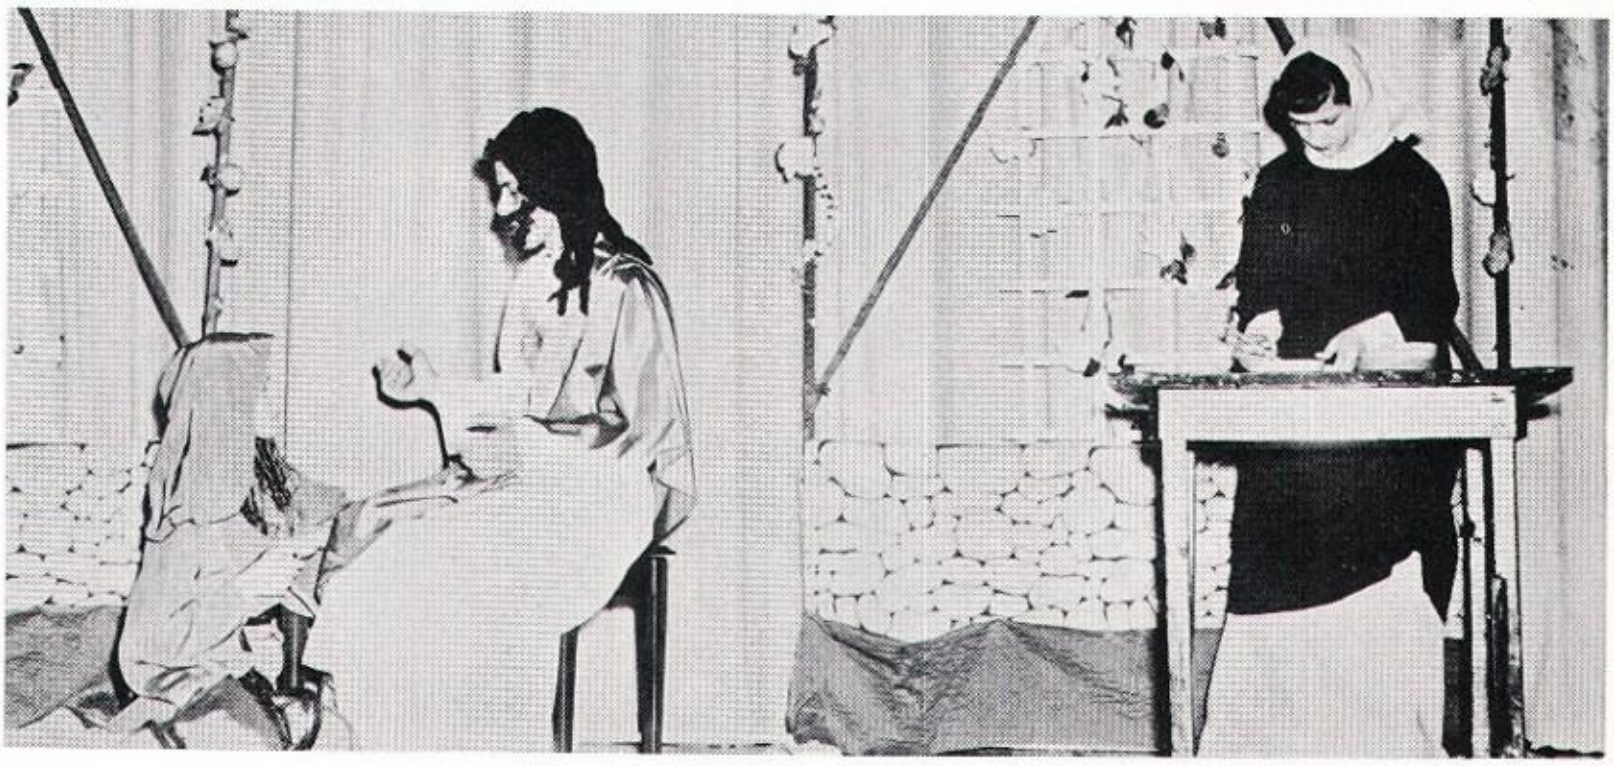


One of the biblical scenes presented in the Golden Jubilee Pageant compared the poverty of the Sisters during the first years of foundation to that of the Holy Family of Nazareth.



At Sacred Heart

The Sisters were surrounded by countless members of the clergy, alumni, students and friends on the glorious jubilee day. His Excellency, Bishop Ryan, Bishop of Burlington favored us with his presence on that day, also, Reverend Mother Gabriel, Superior General, together with Mother Mary Cecile and Mother Hermengild both Assistants General, equally highlighted the occasion.



The biblical scene -- Jesus' visit to Mary and Martha--depicts the Sisters twofold life of prayer and service to others which has resulted in the evergrowing Sacred Heart Schools.
